BURIAL OF MRS. MORRILL

Body Brought From Barton-Former St. Johnsbury Resident. The remains of Mrs. Charles Morrill of Barton, who passed away on Wednesday last, were brought here for burial Friday morning. Mrs. Morrill was well known in St. Johnsbury as Mrs. John Ross, and where she was a resident for many years.

The funeral services were held in Barton Friday morning at 9 o'clock and the remains brought to St. Johnsbury for burial in the Mount Pleasant cemetery. Prayer was offered at the grave by the Rev. Mr. Warner of the Congregational church at Barton. The deceased was the aunt of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. French and Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Bean, who with Harold Bean attended the funeral at Barton. Among those attending the services in St. Johnsbury were Mrs. Lyman Lakeport, N. H., and Mrs. M. H.

Crowned Columbia as Goddess Fame at Grace Methodist Church Friday Evening.

SAMANTHA ALLEN HERE

Samantha Allen at the Court of Fame was given last night by the Grace Unity club of the M. E. church, under the direction of Miss Harriette Harris, before a large and appreciative audience. The fine speeches, the humorous acting, the gay songs, and the beautiful costumes, made a scene long to be remembered by those who looked upon it.

Mrs. Amos Scott, as Goddess of Fame, is about to crown as Queen of Fame, the most worthy claimant for that honor. About 40 historical characters, in costume, appear before the Goddess. Queens and artists mingle with singers and humorous characters. Who will be crowned? America or France? Music or Poetry? Art or Humor?

Each character in turn makes her plea to the Goddess for the crown of Fame, which is finally awarded to Columbia. Each one seemed to have parts fitted to them and acted them in such an original way as to make the olay a decided success. The cast of characters consists of: Goddess of Fame, Mrs. Amos Scott; maid, Hortense Wilkie; Fame Sigrid Ecklof; Three Graces, Kathleen Gray. Mary Dinsmore and Violet Darling; heralds, Josephine Howe, Frieda Ripley and Doris Cowles; Hypatia, Mrs. Henry Eldridge; Queen Elizabeth, Mrs. C. E. Darling; Samantha Allen. Mrs. H. A. PREPARING FOR CHRISTMAS

St. Johnsbury Merchants To Inaugurate Special Advertising Campaigns.

Gilbert H. Tapley of the Tuck night. school at Dartmouth college was here Friday afternoon in the interests of the Commercial club and met the retail committee of that organization to stores. The committee are working on a carefully prepared plan to handle the Christmas advertising and H. A. Stanley of Winthrop, Mass., Wednesday, Dec. 6, has been fixed for the date of the opening of the holiday season. The same successful advertising campaign inaugurated last year, with many new features. will be carried out by the newspapers and a special meeting of all the merchants in town will be held at 1:30 next Friday afternoon to complete the details of the scheme. The success of the scheme is assured and the merchants are confidently expecting the largest holiday trade in the history of the town.

The funeral of J. O. Drouin, for many years a prominent business man of St. Johnsbury, was held from Notre Dame church Thursday morning at 9 o'clock. The solemn high mass of requiem was sung by the Rev. H. J. Maillet of Woodstock and was assisted by the Rev. Fathers Carriere and Le Veer as deacon and sub-deacon. Rev. Father Drouhin also assisted with the services which were largely attended. The merchants of the town were largely represented and during the services all stores in town were closed out of respect to one who had associated, with the business interests of the town for so long.

Large delegations were present from the Commercial club and from the St. John Baptist society. The interment was in the Mt. Calvary cemetery and the bearers were Joseph Brunelle, Louis Gringras, A. J. Dutile, Charles Asselin, Dr. C. A. Prevost and Thomas Gagnon. Edward Asselin was in charge of the funeral arrangements.

Among those present from out of town were: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Drouin and sons, Antonio, Alexandre, Arthur, of Lowell, Mass.; and Edmond Drouin of Barre; Mr. and Mrs. F. O. FAREWELL RECEPTION

To Harry M. Nelson and Family South Church Parlors.

A large number of friends of Mr. and Mrs. Harry M. Nelson and son Edwin, and Mrs. Sarah Nelson, met in the parlors of the South Congregational church, Monday evening for farewell reception to the family, who have been so actively associated with the church for many years.

Mr. Nelson has been superintendent of the Sunday school for a long time, while others of the family have been active in all branches of the church organization.

The musical program arranged conisted of a vocal solo by Mrs. Herbert Blodgett, instrumental solo by Mrs. Joseph Fairbanks and songs and readings by Frank O. French.

Rev. Paul D. Moody presented to Mr. Nelson, as a token or regard from his many friends, a desk set. Mrs. Nelson was presented with a silver cream ladle and Madam Nelson received a purse of gold. Refreshments of coffee and cake were served during the evening. Mr. Nelson and family will leave town soon for Boston, where he has accepted a responsible position with the Congregational Sunday School society.
